vances to France is as old as his empire. It was declared by Peter the Great and Katherine II. It has gained power in underground diplomacy of eastern Europe for centuries. It has startled the world from time to time by hideous tragedles. Its progress has been marked with plunder, murder, massacre and all the tempest of war.

This motive is the ambition of the despots in St. Petersburg to Eussianize This motive is the ambition of the despots in St. Petersburg to Russianize the civil world. Such a motive is grasped with difficulty by the hard-headed statesmen of the west. It would be impossible in any other capital than St. Petersburg, where the barbarism of the old Huns and Vandals has survived to mingle with the dreamy aspiration of the Persian and Hindoo. It would be soouted as ridiculous if it had not been recognized by the keenest men of the century. Two generations ago Mazzini wrote: "If the keenest men of the century. Two generations ago Mazzini wrote: "If there is any danger of invasion and conquests which might destroy the European balance of power it comes from the north. Russia is the only power which the south of Europe has to fear. "Then Russia was comparatively weak. To-day she has 110,000,000 inhabitanta. She has 1,000,000 men constantly under arms. She can put into the field 3,009,000 more. She has a ter-ritory which no man can conquer with-out defeat to the invader and death to the field 8,009,000 more. She has a territory which no man can conquer without defeat to the invader and death to his army. Her arm reaches from the United States to Germany. She is at the gates of Herat and on the highway which cuts the British empire in the east and leads to the Indian ocean. In the Hamirs her hand is heard knocking at the great wall of China. Her shadow is over her. Asia is full of her unrest. Her agents are working with the weapons of the assassin in Bulgaria, Servia and Roumanis. At the Golden Horn she undermines, grain by grain, atone by stone, the grain by grain, stone by stone, the throne and empire of the sultan. In throne and empire or the satisfical hungary her conspirators have just been revealed in the act of inciting the kingdom against the dual empire. In Bohemia her agents are pushing toward rebellion the Young Czechs, over Salicia her system of espionage is Frawn as fine as a net. The son with which he has relief count of Parls and the Duke the Count of Parls and the Count of Parls Kunnstadt and the visit of the Russian fleet at Toulon are but incidents of this gigantic policy. For France herself ostentation with which he has re-ceived the Count of Parls and the Duke of Orleans in Copenhagen shows this; the coolness with which he has ordered the French to leave their enthusiasm and spare other people's feelings also shows it. The czar is a rather arrogant gentleman of strong prejudices and but few attachments, and is about the last person in the world to take violent international fancies. He disikes the German emperor, to be sure but his reasons are purely personal.

William almost talked him to death on several occasions, and was alto-gether too lively during his St. Petersburg visit some four years ago. Even now, at the slightest mention of that visit, Alexander shrugs his shoulders despairingly and stops his ears with his fingers to indi-cate that his dread of the young man-is too deep for words. But for French-

Moreover, the gateway to the Dannbe will be his, and his war ahips can be floated up through the Balkan territorios, which he covets.

This is only a part of the programme which Alexander III. is elaborating for himself and his successors. What else he plans is shown by his negotia-tions with France for coaling stations on the Siamese coast. His greed is as on the Siamese coast. His greet is as great as two continents; his ambition is as strong as the powers of Europe. If any country have reason to fear the results of the Toulon meeting that country is England, for Romanoff is a growing menace for all that makes Britain great That the czar is threatening Germany cannot be maintained by anybody acquainted with the situation.

Frightful Battle With the Elements -Dead Bodies and Wreckage

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 15,-The saddes feature of the lake storm which rayed last night is the reported loss of steamer Dean Richmond, on the shore near Dunkirk. The first heard of the the steamer was at 6 o'clock this morning, when the captain of the Helena reported having sighted the Dean of Richmond off Long Point, der difficulties.

Later Capt. Jack Tierney of the steamer W. H. Stevens reported that he sighted the Richmond in the middle of the lake about four miles this aide of Eric. One of her stacks was missing, and while he was looking the other stack and spar went by the board. She was laboring heavily in the trough, as though her steering gear had become disabled.

Anxiety for the vessel became general in shipping circles last night when eral in shipping circles last night when the severity of the northwestern gale that had been sweeping Lake Erie for forty-eight hours was made known by incoming vessels. These showed the effect of the terrible seas, some being stove in. About 8 o'clock this morning Capt. Leiske, of the Helena, reported that he sighted the Richmond off Long Point. The storm was at its height at the time, and it was impossible to render any assist-ance to the vessel, although she seemed to be laboring under difficul-ties. The Helena was with difficulty kept aright horself, and Capt. Leiske kept aright herself, and Capt. Leiske reports his experience in this storm to have been the most severe of a long life on the lakes. The Richmond was battling with the heavy seas and seemed to be at a great disadvantage, almost dismantled and in imminent dauger of foundering.

This evening the worst fears in regard to the fate of the vessel seemed realized when a dispatch from Dunkirk announced that three bodies had been washed ashore in that localty. The remains could not be identified and bore no marks by which the name of the vessel from which they had come could be ascertained. It was not long, could be ascertained. It was not long, however, before quantities of wreck-age began washing ashore, and on this debris traces of the name Dean Richmond were discernable. The local agent of the line to which the Richmond belonged immediately telegraphed to all points along the lake from Buffalo for information of the vessel, but no information the vessel, but no information us to her whoreabouts could be obtained. All points gave evidence as to the severity of the gale and its disastrous effects upon lake shipping, and there is now no doubt that the Richmond foundard lest right. The condition foundered last night. The condition of the bodies washed ashore at Dun-kirk indicate that the unfortunate seahirk indicate that the unfortunate sea-men had not been dead long; that they had probably been east adrift some time last night and had been beaten to death on the dangerous rocks that abound in this part of the lake shore. Wreekage is still being cast ashore, and it is believed the Richmond foun-dered not more than three miles out in the lake. It seems unrossable that any the lake. It seems impossible that any of the eighteen souls on board of her

could have escaped alive.

The Richmond was a 'Clover Leaf,' boat and her crew were all from Cleve-land. She was one of the first large steamers which mark the coming style of marine construction on the lake She was of 1,250 tonnage and was built in Cleveland in 1864, but was built in 1873. She was owned by Bots-ford and others, of Port Huron, and was valued at $46,000. It is believed that she was fully insured. The Richmond for several seasons past has been char-tered to the Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City line and ran in the general mer-chandise trade between Toledo and this port. She carried no passengers

On the present trip her cargo consisted almost entirely of flour from St. Louis and other southwestern points. Agent Hyde said to night that he supposed the Richmond became dis-abled in the trough of the sea. The crew remained on board with the kope that the steamer would ultimately go ashore, but this was not to be realized asnore, but this was not to be realized and they were forced to make a fight for life without a chance to take to the boats. Had the leach been a sandy one some of them might have survived, but there was little hope for any survivor on the rocky shore of Dankirk. Eighteen persons, the entire crow of the propeller Dean Richmond, are given up for lost in last night's storm on Lake Eric. The corpses of five persons have been washed ashore off Van Buren Point, fortymiles from the city, near Dunkirk The shore of the lake is strewn with wreckage and merchandise, and the waves are hourly yielding up further evidence of the fate to which the Elchmond has gone

The Romand belonged to the Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City line, which was loaded with eighty tons of merchandise from Toledo to Buffalo. Among those who were lost Capt Staddard, leaves a widow and a family; Second Mate Boysen, a widow, Mrs. Retta Elisworth, chamberm tid, a widow, has children in the west. Should School Be Closed? Ex-Speaker Reed spoke at Columbus, O., Friday night to a very large andience onsisting of a large per cent. of Democrats, who are supposed to be thinking that the country has made a mistake in electing the Democrate to power. He said:

I do not propose to make a partsan speech. I want to see a Republican victory and a Democratic defeat in Ohio this year; but I have a doubt as to the advantage of a Republican victor. It might be well if the easons the people are learning should be burned deeparinto their hearts, if they should be required to welk a little longer the path of Democratic desolation. nois State Agricultural Board, who returned from Chicago Baturday, in a converention amout the notion of the board had a few words, when suddenly Gilber on the state fair question, is quoted as sut Johnson in the neck, causing the blood to spurt and drawing a crowd. It

seping:

"We have everything fixed just as I have been wanting it all along. Decetar's chances were never better than right now. In fact it looks to me now as almost certain that we will get the fair. Of course, constituing may happen but I don't know what it could be. It is notife question now of money, but et grounds and advantages in location. The police are in the dark as to why fillbert and I don't know what it could be. It is notife question now of money, but et grounds and advantages in location. The police are in the dark as to why fillbert should have made the marderous attack upon Johnson. The latter stated that he was standing at the corner talk—as howed me that Decatur is all right and has a better show than any other town. There will be an candidates: Chicago, Autors, Feoria, Bloomington, Springfield and Decatur. With all but Feoria, I know that Decatur is the second choice, that many as first choice, they can gree on none, and of course the second choice, which is Decatur, wil get the fair. The real fight will be between Decatur and Syringfield.
"Now it is a question of what town is the boat place and it don't make any difference liow much monay is offered. By that I mean if Daoatur offers $80,000 besides grounds and Peoris offers $80,000 besides grounds and Peoris offers $80,000 is the boat thinks Decatur has see best on his hand received in warding off the
